

WANT BURLINGTON TO ERECT A SHED

Commissioner Instructs City Attorney
Witter to Bring Legal Action Necessary.

RECENT ORDINANCE UNHEEDED

Hart Insists Provisions of Measure
Requiring Improvements Be Carried Out.

"I want to know why the Burlington road has not been forced to comply with the provisions of the ordinance recently passed by the city commission, requiring the construction of a shelter shed at the passenger depot here," demanded Commissioner Archie Hart just before the weekly session of the body adjourned last evening.

Commissioner Hart, who inaugurated the movement for the building of a suitable train shed at the Burlington station, declared that he could see no reason for dropping the matter now. He called attention to the fact that a $250 penalty clause is attached to the measure which has been adopted by the council and on his motion, which carried unanimously, City Attorney J. F. Witter was instructed to inform the road that the city meant business and to bring such legal action to force the carrying out of the ordinance, as he deemed necessary.

It has been Commissioner Hart's contention all along that the present lack of shelter at the Burlington station platform, where passengers are forced to wait a distance of a block or two to the station to get on and off trains, practically amounts to a menace to the health of the traveling public and on this ground he has repeatedly urged that the company be made to provide this improvement.

To Repay for Sewer.

J. S. Woodin, 922 First avenue, appeared before the commission and asked that the city reimburse him for the sum of $75 which he expended several years ago on a sewer on Eleventh avenue between Fifth and Sixth streets. He stated that the understanding with the city authorities at that time was, that he proceed with the work and the municipality would later repay him. He allowed the matter to drop for several years but now thinks he should have the money. The commission decided to act favorably on the request.

A petition from property owners to grade Twentieth avenue from Twentieth to Twenty-fifth street, at their own expense and keep the dirt removed, was received and placed on file. City Engineer Treichler will investigate.

City Engineer Treichler reported that the grading of Twenty-fourth street, Eighteenth to Twenty-first avenue, had been properly completed by W. H. Redecker.

Error of assessment of 40 feet of paving at the intersection of Second avenue and Seventh street, amounting to $321.39, claimed by the Rock Island Plow company, was referred to the board of local improvements.

Old Time Fire.

A little of the old time fire was injected into the session when Commissioner Hart offered a resolution providing that Commissioner Bear be instructed to clean up the polling places in the tenth and twelfth precincts. Commissioner Bear stated that he expected to attend to the matter without suggestions from anyone.

Commissioner Hart called attention to a watermain leak on Fortieth street, between Sixth and Seventh avenues and urged that it be attended to before the paving is laid. Superintendent R. W. Sharp will investigate.

The mayor and city clerk were authorized to sign a contract with the Burlington for the laying of watermain under the tracks of the company on First avenue.

Plat of S. Langman's addition was filed and accepted. Warnock & Reardon were given permission to build a sidewalk next to the curb at their plant, 291-211 Fifth avenue.

To Pass Cases.

City Attorney Witter was empowered to proceed as he thought best in a number of cases which the city recently won in county court. All of them were appeal cases from justice court and motions for new trials have been made. Prominent among them are the cases against Professor Barstow, clairvoyant. Judgment and costs in these amount to about $400. One Rock Island business man and another living in Davenport are on his bond and will probably have to settle, as the defendant skipped soon after the cases were started against him.

questionably intended by the Creator for all His children has rightfully or wrongfully been acquired by a comparatively few persons, that these sources of life intended for the use of man have been taken possession of by a mere handful of men. Our subject funds, too, that all wealth and industry are also controlled by a comparatively few.

Therefore, with practically all the natural resources gone, and with all wealth and industry controlled by the few, about the only chance for life remaining to the worker is the privilege of obtaining employment. If even this should be denied him, he would have to perish, which, however, was not nature's intention with respect to man. Nature intended that man should live and therefore it is man's right to labor in order to obtain the necessities of life with which to live.

Having the right to labor somewhere for someone, man has the right to treat with his employers as to the conditions under which he shall labor. The solution of the problem arising out of the Taylor system is not to say that the men should quit, but mutual agreement as to which features of the system are fair and reasonable and which are oppressive and unreasonable.

In concluding these letters I wish to thank those who have followed them from day to day. I also desire particularly to thank The Argus, and all connected with it in any capacity, for the opportunity that has been accorded me to talk to my constituents, and to give them an idea of how I have been spending some of my time as their representative in Washington. While I have never hesitated to burn the midnight oil in seeking to serve my constituents in Washington, they are not my debtors, but I am theirs. No man in public life that I know of, and particularly no young man, has ever been treated more generously by a people than I have been by the voters of the Fourteenth congressional district of Illinois. No one has ever had greater reason to want to try to accomplish something for the welfare of the masses than I have had. As long as I remain in Congress I will endeavor to the best of my ability to prove my appreciation of the confidence that the people on two occasions have so generously given me. (The End.)

MORTALLY ILL HE LIES A LONG TIME

Frank Burger Unable to Summon
Help for 36 Hours After Stroke of Apoplexy.

NEIGHBORS FINALLY HEAR HIM

Removed to St. Anthony's Hospital
Where End Comes—Aged 54
Years and Born Here.

After lying for nearly a day and a half at his home, 501 Ninth street, ill and too weak to summon aid, Frank L. Burger, 54 years of age, and a lifelong resident of this city, died at 4:45 this morning at St. Anthony's hospital. His death was due to a stroke of apoplexy.

Mr. Burger was last seen about his home Friday night. Early Sunday morning Charles Dobbelaere who resides in the front part of the home, heard groans coming from Burger's room. He entered and found him lying ill and helpless on the bed and scarcely able to talk. Dobbelaere called Gustav Krueger, a friend of Burger's, who resides across the street. Mr. Krueger saw that Burger was in critical condition and Dr. C. F. Freytag was summoned. Burger was rushed to the hospital, but in spite of all the attending physician could do for him, passed away early this morning. Mr. Burger worked Thursday and Friday evening was sowing grass seed in the yard. He had purchased some meat for supper, and this was found lying on the table in the kitchen.

For several years Burger had resided alone at his home, renting out the rooms in the front part of the house. The Dobbelaere family saw nothing of Burger all day Saturday, but thought nothing of it supposing he was visiting relatives. The stricken man probably lay in a stupor from Friday night until Sunday morning too weak to let his neighbors know of his plight, or to help himself. He had been in the best of health of late.

One Daughter Survives.

Deceased was born in Rock Island and would have been 55 years of age June 25. He was united in marriage to Miss Emma Knippenburg, Beardstown, Ill., who preceded him in death 17 years. Four children were born to the union Mrs. Raymond A. Heath, Annawan, surviving. Two sisters are living, Mrs. M. Peterson, and Mrs. M. Haley, both of Chicago, and two brothers, Fred Burger, Burlington, Cal., and William Burger, Rock Island. Mr. Burger was a member of the Odd Fellows and of the sheet metal workers' union. Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at Knox's chapel, Rev. F. J. Rolf officiating. Interment will be made at Beardstown Thursday where his wife was buried.

Kidney Trouble Often Causes Nervousness and Heart Trouble

Two years ago I was badly run down, not able to do any work; suffered from nervousness, heart trouble, kidneys and bladder in bad shape; no appetite, unable to do any work; and since using six bottles of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, I feel fine; am in excellent health and can do most any kind of light work. Since using the Swamp-Root I have been relieved of all the above troubles. I cheerfully give the above testimony, and hope others may be benefited.

New Hats—Yes Ten Days Newer Than Those of Easter

Now this one shown here—a milan crown—trimmed with flowers, flowers in this instance that please the maid—in your case you can use the flowers that please you.

Of course, fashion has a wee bit of a rule which is that streamers should go on the bridesmaid's hat, but what good is a rule if one can't break it, especially in this case.

This hat with a streamer of grosgrain ribbon, and by the way, faced hats are decidedly good, for most all hats that have room for facing are faced—which makes it necessary for the ribbon to match the facing. And if the hat is large, which it should be, dip it a bit on one side—show the facing.

Our later than Easter Hats show a host of stunning styles now.
